

Emotional positioning is the foundation and starting point of our brand design. Using the emotional coordinate axis, we clearly anchor the core positions of both the corporate brand and the category brands. The more focused the brand positioning, the clearer and more impactful the expression.