

The core strategy of brand communication is to build emotional resonance between consumers and the brand. We transform the abstract emotional concept into quantifiable visual parameters through three progressive levels, forming a corresponding deduction logic of "Emotion - Expression - Visual".