

The Anker brand is built around the Anker Innovations master brand, with three category sub-brands extending from it—each connected by the shared idea of "Light."

All sub-brands follow the core design system while expressing their own distinct visual identities. Together, they form a unified brand ecosystem, where the master brand builds recognition and the sub-brands strengthen consumer connection.